1. BACKGROUND AND INTRODUCTION:

The Solano Community College District requests proposals from qualified consultants to assist the College in preparing an update to the District-wide Facilities Master Plan, including long-range program development, growth, and capital plans for the College's Fairfield Campus and two Centers in Vallejo and Vacaville. The plans will include a review of the academic program plans, included in the Educational Master Plan, potential for maximum growth at build-out for each of the sites, and a capital program that will identify preferred land use, potential building sites, circulation plans, as well as capacity and massing plans to support the academic program needs of each of the campuses.

The Solano Community College District consists of three sites: Fairfield campus, the Vacaville Center and Vallejo Center and a site at Travis Air Force Base. Interested respondents to this RFP should go to http://www.solano.edu to learn more about the District

The most recent comprehensive Facility Master Plan and Educational Master Plan can be found at http://www.solano.edu/president/district_plans/index.html. If the link does not properly work, go to the President’s Page and select District Plans from the left side of the page.

The District is in the process of updating its Educational Master Plan, which will further develop current and potential academic program plans at each college to include the contract education/workforce development component of the District. Embedded within the District’s governance structures is a tradition of collegial governance and decision-making that will be an important factor in the development of the Facilities Master Plan. The District will use the proposed capital facilities planning process to identify the remaining needs for completion of the existing bond measure, to support requests for funding from future State-wide bond measures or for a future general obligation facilities bond measure to fund the facilities additions and enhancements as identified by the plan.

This is a fast-track project in anticipation of the District’s placing a General Obligation bond measure on the November, 2012 ballot if such a measure is determined to be feasible. Only firms that can provide the resources needed to accomplish this project in the time frame indicated in this RFP should propose.

2. PROPOSED PROJECT – Facilities Master Planning

This Request for Proposal (RFP) is for the update to the facilities planning component of the District-wide Educational Master Plan. The selected consultant will be required to produce written, graphic, and digital documentation of plans to ultimate build-out, and capital plans to accommodate the student enrollment in the academic master plan that will be developed by another provider. The consultant will gather input from the District and College leadership, and other constituencies. Work will involve
The consultant will assist the District in the planning process through adoption of the plans by the District’s Board of Trustees.

The final product will include, but not be limited to, a capital plan that illustrates the potential building requirements and infrastructure capacity of each of the college sites, and District facilities to accommodate potential educational program expansion to accommodate maximum growth based upon quantitative analysis of future demand and to achieve maximum efficiencies with existing facilities. A critical component of the final product will be a recommendation for the final build-out size for each campus and the District and a comprehensive analysis and justification for those recommended sizes.

Consultant should also address, in their final report, any purchase/lease options of new sites or joint use opportunities to accommodate program needs identified in the revised Education Master Plan.

The academic plan component, which is not a component of this RFP, will include, but not be limited to: 1) Campus background and history; 2) mission and vision; 3) description and assessment of academic program existing conditions; 4) external and internal influences; 5) analysis of current program status to preferred future program status; and 6) responses to move from current situation to future programs.

The capital plans, which are the focus of this RFP, will include, but not be limited to: 1) site analyses, including site utilities; 2) appropriate land use designations and placement; 3) maximum buildable areas available; 4) appropriate massing, building height, and constraints for each available building site; 5) allocation of building areas to maintain an open space structure; 6) a density appropriate to pedestrian-oriented campuses/colleges; 7) review and update of building and landscape design standards; 8) pedestrian and vehicular circulation (including bicycle, service, and emergency) and parking locations, as well as analysis of Fairfield campus entry given past and potential future development of areas adjacent to the campus; 9) recreation and athletic facilities; 10) child care facilities; 11) performing arts venues; 12) synergistic uses and potential adjacencies for program interaction and facility efficiency; 13) integration of technology into all facilities, and 14) integration of sustainability into the design, construction, and ongoing operation of all facilities.

The plans for each site will include, but not be limited to: a Land Use Map, a Building and Massing Plan, a Circulation Plan, and a Utility Infrastructure Plan.
Planning Team and Process: The consulting team should include highly experienced individuals familiar with facility program planning in the California Community Colleges and technical planning expertise in facility, educational center and landscape planning/design, long-range planning/design and infrastructure planning/engineering/design. The consultant’s proposal should include a description of the recommended approach to developing the planning process and outcomes that are described above. The planning process will require interactive meetings, planning charts, open forums, workshops and presentations.

The proposal submitted by the prospective consultant should anticipate a minimum start-up period of two to three weeks for orientation meetings with the District’s executive leadership team before the formal planning process begins. During the course of the process, the consultant will be responsible for producing all meeting minutes and associated handouts in an electronic format for review and distribution by Solano staff.

3. SCOPE OF REQUIRED SERVICES:

Program Definition/Data Collection: The educational plan information and growth capacity information from the Education Master Plan will be used to determine the type and amount of building space that would be needed as the District matures to final build-out. The information will translate into space requirements, land use, adjacencies, capacity/massing, circulation, infrastructure and utility requirements.

Site Analysis including Massing Analysis and Future Expansion: The consultant will examine campus physical attributes and constraints, surrounding context, and existing and potential future program needs. As part of the capacity/massing study, potential building sites would be identified, including sites necessitating the demolition of existing structures, and would show utility service connections and identify potential site issues. The study will provide total site capacity information for potential development.

Site Current Condition Analysis: The consultant will examine current campus infrastructure (both above and below ground), parking, technology, accessibility, way-finding, and condition of current facilities. Based on those studies, the consultant will propose ABR (Architectural Barrier Removal), way-finding, renovation, modernization and infrastructure projects, as well as new construction.

Sustainability and LEEDS: The consultant is expected to consider and maximize sustainability and LEEDS in the preparation of all proposals and identify renewable energy opportunities. There is currently no District policy in this regard.
