

BACHELOR OF ARTS in Child Development

Degree Completion in Early Development, Care, and Education (EDCE)

Earn Your Degree Close to Home

The Bachelor of Arts in Child Development—Early Development, Care and Education (EDCE) program—was launched in 2007 to create an accessible pathway to bachelor’s degree completion for working early childhood educators.

This degree completion program is a collaboration between Sacramento State’s College of Education, College of Continuing Education, and local child care and education organizations.

“This program was a godsend. I could attend class two nights a week after work. The instructors went above and beyond and made me feel like I was part of Sacramento State. Anyone considering this program should jump on board.”

Cohort 2 Placer County, Graduated Spring 2011

Degree Completion in Early Development, Care, and Education (EDCE)

Benefits

- Cohort learning environment
- Guaranteed classes
- Classes held locally within your community
- A variety of student services so you don't have to navigate the CSU system alone!

Program Structure

The EDCE degree completion program combines video and web-based delivery, coupled with face-to-face cohort discussion. Classes are facilitated by a cohort instructor, who will guide students through each class and provide full academic support throughout the program. Students take two courses per semester for eight semesters, including fall, spring and summer—finishing in three years.

Future Students

- Prospective students have attended community college and may be transfer eligible to a four-year university
- Not sure if you are transfer eligible? We will let you know and create an educational plan for you!

Financial Aid

Financial Aid is available. Students can apply online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. For more information, visit Sacramento State's Financial Aid website at www.csus.edu/faid.
