Fulbright Scholar Talks About Cells Project

The Mathematics and Science Division of Solano Community College hosted Dr. Selis Onel on 9/11/17 as part of the Fulbright Outreach Program. Dr. Onel is a Fulbright scholar at the Center for Engineering in Medicine hosted by Harvard Medical School and Massachusetts General Hospital and an associate professor of chemical engineering at Hacettepe University, Ankara Turkey.

Dr. Onel shared her multidisciplinary research at the Center for Engineering in Medicine and Hacettepe University with the faculty and the students of Solano Community College. She also informed the audience about the opportunities with the Fulbright as well as the history and the culture of her home country, Turkey.

Her talk mainly consisted on her research project on mathematical modeling for freezing and vitrification of cells that she conducts at the Center of Engineering in Medicine of Harvard Medical School.

For this project she has been working on controlled pre-concentration of cells by encapsulation in picoliter droplets in a microfluidic system prior to preservation. She also talked about her ongoing research on optimizing a novel automatic controlled electro-chemical machining (ECM) device at Hacettepe University.

The SCC students mainly from biotechnology and biomanufacturing bachelor's degree programs as well as the faculty members from various disciplines participated the seminar.

Help for DACA Students

The ACLU will be on campus Sept. 26 and 27 to provide general information about the potential changes to DACA, rights to demonstrate and peaceful protest, and rights related to authoritative encounters.

ACLU representatives are planning to advertise additional events that cater to registering students and completing paperwork while at this event. There is an upcoming event in San Francisco as well, where the ACLU will not only help people register, but also pay the renewal fee. They will have more information on that when they are here.

Please let your students know about this workshop as well so they can ask any questions they might have.

Also, Mission Asset Fund (MAF) is offering scholarship funds to cover the costs for students needing to renew their Deferred Action for Childhood Arrives (DACA) status before the upcoming Oct. 5 deadline.

The San Francisco-based nonprofit, which has a long history of supporting Dreamers, dedicated scholarship funds specifically to help California community college, California State University and University of California students pay for the $495 renewal fee.

DACA students interested in applying for the scholarship opportunity should visit <http://lc4daca.org> to learn more and complete the online application. Scholarship applicants will need to complete a short questionnaire and will need to provide their documentation of DACA status with expiration date on or before March 5, 2018 to qualify for the financial aid.

Performing Arts Gala A Big Success

The Opening Night Gala for the Performing Arts Center was a great success. We sold 350 tickets to the event and 32 seat plates! Entertainment was provided by the SCC Alumni Jazz Ensemble, the Solano Choral Society, the SCC Dance Company, Barbara McFadden, Felton Pilate and Stephen Brennan.

Those in attendance also heard from Christine Mani who provided a sneak peak at the upcoming theatre season. A total of 11 distinguished alumni were recognized for their contributions throughout the evening.

A big thank you to Chef Daniel Bell who provided the delicious food and to those who sponsored this fundraising event, which included PG&E, Genentech, Kitchell, NorthBay Healthcare, Peterson Mechanical, AT&T, and others!

Thanks to the Foundation, who coordinated this fundraiser and to those who attended this inaugural event!
