Solano College Theatre Presents: My Fair Lady

The Theatre Department is proud to present one of the best loved musicals of all time, "My Fair Lady" which opened April 5 and runs through April 28.

An article in the "Fairfield Daily Republic" highlights SCC student Janessa Sales, who didn't set out to become an actress at Solano Community College.

She was enrolled in a Theatre 1 class taught by Christine Mani, a class she needed to graduate.

Sales mentioned to Mani she enjoyed dancing. Mani encouraged the longtime Benicia resident to participate in the college's production of "My Fair Lady," which opens this weekend.

Mani thought she would be great in the play – and give the message that theater is for everyone.

"Why not," Sales asked herself when Mani asked. "I can show deaf people can do anything," Sales said.

Sales is playing a helper to the character, Mrs. Higgins, played by Harriet Page.

Athletics Update

Solano men's tennis player Rajan Bhatia and women's tennis player Jyne Velono have been named the Solano Athletics March Co-Athletes of the Month, announced Monday.

Bhatia, a freshman, posted an undefeated singles season through the month of March, posts one of the team's top grade point averages, and dedicates a large amount of time to community projects.

"[Rajan] is a natural leader, constantly assisting and working with his teammates, no matter the level or proficiency," head men's tennis coach Rafael Rovira said. "He leads by example, and his positive energy is a constant reminder to those around him to seize the moment and play their hearts out."

Velono, a sophomore, also posted a perfect March after qualifying for the state tournament in Ojai, Calif. last year. She was also tabbed as a nominee to the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) Rookie to Watch list last season.

"[Jyne] has become a fixed point on the team, assisting with freshmen and excelling on all fronts during practice and matches," Rovira said. "Her laugh is contagious, and her patience and compassion go beyond the tennis court."

Baseball: The Solano Community College baseball team led 2-0 after three innings but Los Medanos took the lead in the fifth en route to a 6-3 Bay Valley Conference victory and a sweep of the Falcons, Friday.

Cameron Michael scored an unearned run on a Nick Botello groundout in the second and Alex Peppard pounded a solo homer in the third to put the Falcons (9-20, 5-9 BVC) in front.

Solano hosts Napa Valley in a makeup game on Monday at 2:30 before beginning a three-game series with Yuba at home on Tuesday.
